A SPRING MEDICINE.

"One Bottle of Pe-ru-na the Best Dollar's Worth I Ever Bought."

Every spring the system needs renovating. The blood needs purifying. The nerves need strengthening. The functions of the body need regulating. To find a remedy that will do all this is to find something more precious than gold. Where else can a dollar be spent in the spring of the year that is sure to bring so large a return as to buy a bottle of Pe-ru-na? Pe-ru-na is an ideal spring remedy. It strengthens, quickens, restores appetite, helps digestion, and builds up weak nerves. Mr. J. R. Stuart, Editor of The Tribune, says: "I have purchased one bottle of Pe-ru-na and it was used by myself and wife as a spring medicine. I consider it the best dollar's worth I ever bought. My wife has used your remedies with gratifying results." This is only one of many hundreds of testimonials Dr. Hartman receives praising his well-known remedy, Pe-ru-na.

Any one wishing to know what the people of the United States think of Pe-ru-na should send for the pamphlet entitled "Pe-ru-na and Its Friends." This book contains testimonials from the people in their own language, and will be sent free by addressing The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Company, Columbus, O.

THE CUBANS EVINCE THEIR GRATITUDE.

Loud in Their Thanks to American Congress, Press and People.

STIRRING RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

Chickering Hall Crowded With Joyous Patriots, Met to Celebrate the Independence of Their Native Land. Ringing Speeches Made by Leaders in the Cause of Cuban Freedom.

New York, April 24.—Says the Sun: Chickering Hall was packed to the doors Saturday night with cheering Cubans, who met to express their gratitude to the press and people of the United States for their help in their struggle for Cuban independence. It was the first mass meeting held since the action of congress declaring Cuba free, and the difference between this meeting and those preceding it was expressed in the joyful faces of the audience. The prevailing sentiment expressed by the speakers and emphasized by the cheers of the assemblage was that Cuban independence was no longer a question of doubt; it was an accomplished fact.

Everywhere the American and Cuban flags were entwined, and at the back of the stage between two immense American flags was the picture of George Washington. Surrounding this were the pictures of many of the chief Cuban patriots. Every one in the audience had small American and Cuban flags, and at every mention of the press or congress a mass of fluttering flags was the response.

Members of the Cuban Junta and other prominent Cubans were seated on the platform. In the centre was General T. Estrada Palma, whose entrance was the signal for a tremendous demonstration. The band played "The Star Spangled Banner," and for fully five minutes the audience cheered.

THE SPEAKERS.

The speakers were Diego Tamayo, President of the League of Cuban clubs of the United States; Enrique Trujillo, editor of El Porvenir; Manuel Sanguily, a brother of the Cuban General Julio Sanguily; Antonio Blazo, and Enrique J. Verona. Senor Tamayo began by thanking the American press for its aid in the cause of their country.

"I must take formal occasion," said he, "to express my great and never-to-be-forgotten debt to the American press, which has always defended our interests, given us space to the representation of our proceedings, and extended to us a cordial sympathy and aid. Its noble efforts will live in the minds of every Cuban, and be an example of the greatness of a press that knows no dictator."

"We must here to celebrate also the eve of Spain's departure from Cuba and the end of a government of unparalleled misrule and infamy. That the end is so near is due to the action of the American congress and its approval by President William McKinley."

At the mention of the president three cheers were given with a will.

Senor Trujillo also spoke of the press. "With few exceptions," he said, "the press of America has nobly supported us. An example of this support was the late Charles A. Dana and the Sun. It is to such papers as this that Cuba is indebted for the sympathy of the American people in her cause."

SPANISH MISRULE.

The speaker went on to describe Spanish misrule and the difficulties with which the Cubans had to contend. Quite a sensation was caused at the end of his speech by the entrance of about seventy-five Frenchmen, carrying at their head the flag of France. They were members of the French volunteers that have enlisted in the regiment being raised by Lafayette post, and were sent down by their president as an expression of their sympathy for Cuba. The tri-color flag, as it passed through the crowd, was greeted with tremendous cheering. Beside it were borne two American flags. As the emblems of the two republics were borne up the stage, the band struck up the "Marseillaise." Then the women were on their feet in an instant singing the song of French liberty, led by the Frenchmen. It was an inspiring sight, and during the remainder of the meeting the Cuban, American and French flags were held together on the stage.

The Frenchmen were afterward thanked by a member of the Junta, who said that this recalled the action of Lafayette and his countrymen in the American revolution. These resolutions were adopted:

RESOLUTIONS.

"Whereas, Our aspirations have been crowned at last, achieving the freedom and independence of our country, a worthy recompense for the long and arduous sacrifices of the innumerable patriots who have not ceased to struggle against Spanish domination, and in these moments of enthusiasm and joy we should convey the expression of our gratitude to all who have labored in the days of adversity and peril on behalf of our redemption; and

"Whereas, The solemn declaration of our independence is a work of reparation and justice, obtained, thanks to the Titanic struggle of three generations of patriots and the high sentiments of the noble people unequivocally manifested by its consistent help and sympathy which have culminated in the resolutions of congress of April 11 and approved by the president of the American republic recognizing Cuba as a free and independent nation and compelling Spain to relinquish forever her sovereignty; therefore be it

"Resolved, First to send fraternal greeting to all who at this moment are laboring for Cuba in any form, especially to those who are bearing arms in the field of battle, and to render a tribute of love to those who have fallen in the strife, in the prisons and in exile or have succumbed to the horrors of the policy of the reconcentration decrees of Spain, which has disgraced civilization and shocked the feelings of humanity."

"Second—To express our profound thanks to congress and to the president of the great American union for the disinterested and righteous action which they have just realized to the eternal honor of American justice, the former with their declaration, and the latter by giving life and the strength of law to the exigencies of public opinion and to the mandates of universal conscience, and

"Third—To express our infinite gratitude to the American press, which has ever been a friend to Cuba, as the most constant and conspicuous defender of our cause, because of the great part it has taken in the triumph of our ideal with its ceaseless propaganda."

INTERESTING EXPERIENCE.

Of an Iowa Lady Who Was Cured of Dyspepsia After Suffering for Twenty-five Years.

Mrs. Sarah A. Skeels, an estimable lady residing at Lynville, Jasper Co., Iowa, was for twenty-five years a sufferer from Dyspepsia, and her complete restoration to health is so remarkable that we present the facts in the case for the benefit of our readers, many of whom have doubtless suffered in the same manner and will, therefore, be interested in learning how all such troubles may be avoided and cured.

Mrs. Skeels says: I used only one package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and I received such great and unexpected benefit that I wish to express my sincere gratitude. In fact, it has been six months since I took the medicine and I have not had one particle of distress or difficulty since. And all this in the face of the fact that the best doctors I consulted told me my case was incurable as I had suffered for twenty-five years. I want half a dozen packages to distribute among my friends here who are very anxious to try this remedy.

Truly yours,

Mrs. Sarah A. Skeels.

The reason why Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are so successful in curing indigestion and stomach trouble and the reason why it never disappoints those who need it and use it is because nothing is claimed for it except that it will actually perform. It is not a cure-all and no such claims are made for it. It is prepared for the sole purpose of curing Dyspepsia and the various forms of indigestion.

There is scarcely a patent medicine made but what is claimed to cure dyspepsia as well as a hundred other troubles. When as a matter of fact a remedy to cure Dyspepsia must be prepared especially for that and nothing else; and among all the remedies, patent nostrums, bitters, etc., so extensively advertised you will find that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the only one advertised as a cure for dyspepsia and nothing else. The remedy is prepared by the Stuart Co., of Marshall, Mich., and for sale by all druggists at 50 cents per package, and if you suffer from any form of stomach derangement or indigestion a trial will not disappoint you.

A little book on stomach troubles mailed free. Address Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

Buenos Venturas, captured Friday off Key West by the United States cruiser Nashville, have issued a signed protest against her capture. They say the cargo of the steamship belongs to British merchants and was insured in Great Britain. They add that the steamship left ship Island on April 11, so her captain was not aware of the outbreak of war.

Finally, the owners of the Buenos Venturas claim the capture illegal, as there has been no formal declaration of war and the ultimatum of President McKinley to Spain had not expired when the steamship was seized.
